

The Middle-class Ideology of Womanhood and Its Failure in *Oliver Twist

by

Misaki Tanaka

A thesis submitted to the Faculty of the Graduate School of Osaka City University
in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of
Master of Arts

January 2020

Contents

Introduction .....	1
Chapter 1 The Idealized Image of Woman in Oliver Twist .....	4
1. The Figure of the “Angel in the House” .....	4
2. The Idealization of “Fallen Woman” .....	7
2. 1 Nancy as a Tragic Heroine.....	7
2. 2 The Two-sidedness of Agnes.....	10
Chapter 2 The Image of Oliver .....	16
1. The Innocent Child.....	16
2. The Middle-class Heredity Immune to Various Vice .....	21
Chapter 3 Errors in the Stratagem of the Middle Class.....	26
1. The Fluctuation of the “Angel in the House” .....	26
2. The Two-sidedness of Oliver.....	28
3. The Instability of Heredity .....	32
4. The Refuge by the Name of the Earthly Paradise .....	36
Chapter 4 The Latent Power of Women .....	40
1. The Destruction of the Criminal World.....	40
2. Agnes Escapes from the Middle-class Ideal Image of Woman .....	44
Conclusion.....	48